DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of claims 1-4 in the reply filed on 3/16/05 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the element "an" should be changed to "a", page 12, line 22. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Zhang et al. (US 2004/0222478, hereinafter, Zhang.)

In regard to claim 1, in fig. 5A, Zhang discloses an integrated circuit device, comprising:

a substrate 552 having a plurality of active devices (integrated circuit layers);
an interconnection level 556 on the active devices having a plurality of metal line to provide interconnections between the active devices with a plurality of plugs;
a shielding level on the interconnection level having an electromagnetic shielding pattern 502; and a plurality of stitching studs 538 passing through the substrate;
wherein the shielding pattern, the plugs, and the stitching studs are electrically connected to form a housing of the IC device.

In regard to claim 3, the shielding level further comprises at least one passive element, inductor, for example.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zhang as applied to claims 1 and 3 above, and further in view of the Applicants admitted prior art (AAPA, FIG. 1.)

In regard to claims 2 and 4, Zhang discloses all of the claimed limitations as mentioned above except the shielding level having a protective layer and connection pads.

The AAPA discloses an analogous device including a passivation layer 109 and plurality of connections 108 in order to provide protection and connections to the outside devices.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to add electrical connections and pads in order to provide protection and connections to the outside devices.
